TRAVELER'S OFFICE, GALLIA CO.,

Ma. NASH—Please say that this week closes tax collections at this office, and the penalty will be added thereafter.

Treasurer.

Our citizens will find Mr. G. D. McBRIDE ready to put in tune their Pianos and Organs. He is thoroughly qualified.

About nine tons of hay were cut on the Public Square.

The Census taker, Dr. W. W. Mills, has finished his work in the 3d Ward of this city, and the following is the population:

Whites, 837
Colored, 648
Total, 1485

There are six vacant houses in the Ward.

With these figures as a basis, we fear we shall fall below 5,000 in the city.

Will Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Restorer change gray hair to its original color and not dry the skin? It will and is a preparation of acknowledged superior merit.

Gallipolis is going into convulsions over her railroad prospects. Hope she'll survive.—Ironton Register.

We understand "convulsions" up this way—will "survive," and come out right side up. Then we will invite you up for a ride. Capt. STICKLER, we guess, will chalk your hat to this point on his new packet, and for the balance we stand pledged. And we will show you iron and coal fields magnificent to look upon, and they are not in Lawrence County either.

Sold again, and another order gone for those 25 cent Switches, at Mrs. ROBERTSON'S.

Monday was the day fixed for the opening of the Railroad books. We can't say that our people have crowded the National Bank for that purpose, but we can say that the occasion has shown that we have live men amongst us, men who have signified their intention to act liberally in the matter—and that the prospects are encouraging.

Mr. WILLIAM SHOBER was the first name on the list, with the liberal subscription of $5,000.—Wealth in the hands of such men as Mr. SHOBER is a blessing to the community. Let all others do as well in proportion to their means, and the iron horse will create new life through our hills and valleys sure.

From appearances, we judge we shall be able to announce other liberal subscriptions next week.—There is a feeling that the road must be built, and it will show itself.

We were on Third street Saturday, in the neighborhood of Alexander's flouring mill, and were astonished at its lively business appearance. We counted fourteen teams in the immediate vicinity.—Most of them brought in wheat.—Friday, twenty-two loads of wheat were received at this mill. No one knows the extent of our business unless he visits every street and every section, a full two hours walk. Every part of our widely extended city has its business interests.

The new Building and Loan Association has received its certificate of incorporation. Its name is the "Gallia Building and Loan Association." Capital stock $100,000, in shares of $200. The incorporators are W. Y. Miles, John T. Halliday, Wm. Shober, J. H. Weil, J. M. Kerr, E. P. Ralph and John A. Hamilton. These names are a sure guarantee of success.

Mr. ISAAC COOK died in this city last Wednesday. His disease was inflammation of the bowels, contracted while South with a trading boat. He commenced life in this city, and had by prudent management and industry, acquired considerable property.

Mrs. E. COTTELL, residing in Clay township, Gallia county, Ohio, was born in 1790—married in 1806—has had 16 children, 96 grand children, 130 great grand children, and 2 great great grand children. Many have done well, but she has done better.—She enjoys good health and bids fair to live many years yet.

Union School—Closing Exercises.

The graduating exercises of our Union School were held at "ALEX. SHINN'S Hall," on Friday evening last, before a very crowded audience. They consisted of orations and essays, interspersed with some choice selections of vocal music, all of which exhibited an amount of talent, thought and study for which we were quite unprepared, and which reflects great credit, not only on the young ladies and gentlemen who took part in them, but on the learned gentleman through whose zeal and untiring assiduity they were brought to so happy a termination, as well as to the care and attention of this fair and talented assistants in the several branches of study taught in the school. The Board of Education may be justly proud of those children whose advantage it has been to receive instruction and training, from so judicious a source, need not experience any anxiety for the further development of the budding intellects which have been nurtured in a soil, rich with all the elements of science and of the arts, and combining all the deep erudition of the ancients, with the sound, practically useful requirements of a modern education. On first glancing over the programme, we confess, we were of opinion that the subjects chosen were rather obtuse for youthful intellects, and would prove too much for the aspirants after philosophic distinction. When we read of "Man's duality," "The garb of thought," "Man's capacity and true elevation," as texts for the essays to be read by young Misses, we should, had we not had some confidence in the judgment of Professor CALDWELL, have abstained from being present at, what would have been under less able management, a ridiculous exhibition of vanity and ignorance; but we are proud and happy to say we were most agreeably astonished and disappointed. "Man's duality," by Miss ADA LANNING, was ably and clearly rendered, and evinced the possession of talents of a very high order, and an unusual amount of metaphysical research. While the "Garb of thought," and "Man's capacity and true elevation," by Miss ADA LANNING, was ably and clearly rendered, and evinced the possession of talents of a very high order, and an unusual amount of metaphysical research. While the "Garb of thought," and "Man's capacity and true elevation," by Miss ADA LANNING, was ably and clearly rendered, and evinced the possession of talents of a very high order, and an unusual amount of metaphysical research.

Amongst the orations, "The sunbeam," by JOSEPH RATHBURN, appeared to us worthy of the foremost rank, as much on account of the youth of the orator himself, as of his graceful delivery and deportment; but this remark must not be supposed a detractor from the merits of "Unseen battle fields," by J. F. SANNIS, "Past and present," by J. T. MITCHELL, "The world's motive power," by G. W. GILMAN, or "Nature," by V. M. NEWTON. The last two mentioned were good pieces of composition, well digested and emphatically spoken, and in the two former "the action was suited to the word and the word to the action," in a manner so just and proper as would, no doubt, have called forth commendation from the fastidious young Hamlet himself.

The principal vocalists were our old young friends and favorites, Miss LALLIA VANCE, Miss MINNIE STEWART, and Miss VANDER, each and every one of whose sweet voices would "have coaxed the birds off the bushes."

The diplomas having been awarded, our well known remarks from Mr. W. H. FULLER, and an eloquent address from Professor CALDWELL, showing the very satisfactory results of his last year's tuition, a delightful and instructive evening's enjoyment was brought to a close by the efforts of "Good Night," sung by the entire class, and accompanied on the organ by our talented young townsman, FRED HENKING. When benediction having been pronounced by Rev. Mr. DAVIS, the numerous assemblage separated.

HEARTH & HOME for this week (dated June 25th) contains the first of a series of sketches entitled Jethro Thorpe's Night Thoughts, by JOHN THOMAS, who is no other than PETER LUX V. NASH. The great humorist will take an honest country boy to the city, conduct him through the usual experience, and restore him to his home a sadder and wiser boy, satisfied that the peaceful, honest, and temperate life of the farmer is the best and safest life that can be lived. This is a lesson greatly needed at this time, and NASH is the man to teach it.

The steamer Mountain Boy, with music and banners, came out of the Kanawha Monday night, loaded with delegates to the West Virginia Republican State Convention, to be held at Parkersburg this day, Wednesday.—After a short stay here, she passed on up the river.

Hon. CALVARY MORRIS, known to our older citizens as a former member of Congress when the District was composed of Athens, Gallia, etc., is at present Probate Judge of Athens county, and is a vigorous, active gentleman of the old school.

H. U. MAXON.

Mr. L. B. MENAGER, well and favorably known to most of our readers as a former resident of this city, died at Pleasant, last Friday, aged 61 years. We presume we shall be furnished with an obituary notice for next week.

Prof. A. G. SEARS, of Galesburg, Illinois, for many years the wise and popular Principal of Gallia Academy, arrived here Saturday to attend the reunion festivities of the teachers and scholars of that institution, which occurs to-day, Wednesday. His friends, and they are co-extensive with his acquaintances, will be glad to learn that he is in good health, and apparently as vigorous as ever. He is the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. F. L. LE CLERCQ.

The very interesting ceremony of the dedication of a church took place here on Sunday last, at the old Baptist Chapel, on Third street—recently purchased by the German Protestant congregation. The building was handsomely decorated with evergreens and flowers, and was filled to overflowing by a respectable and attentive audience, amongst which were many persons belonging to the various Christian denominations in the city.—The meeting was presided over by the Rev. Mr. DEIS, who performed the solemn services proper for the occasion, and concluded by an eloquent and impressive address. The choir was large and the music sweet and well selected.

Rev. C. H. LAWTON will deliver a lecture on the Chinese in California, at the M. E. Church, on Thursday evening. Lecture to commence at 8 o'clock. Admission, adults, 25 cents; children, 10 cents. Part of the proceeds of the lecture will be given to the Sunday School.

We clip from the Cincinnati Gazette, of recent date:

"THE CHINESE IN CALIFORNIA.—The Rev. C. H. LAWTON delivered a lecture at Christie Chapel last night on the Chinese in California, those peculiar people who have become such an important element in the population of the Golden State, but of whom so little is known east of the Rocky mountains.—Mr. LAWTON resided for several years in California, and enjoyed unusual opportunities for observing the manners of these singular people. He has, besides, an excellent facility for telling what he knows, and the lecture was one of the most interesting and instructive of the season, as all of the large audience who heard it with so much attention and interest are able to testify."

Walter McFarland, of Pomeroy, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor last week. Supposed to be partially insane.

LINES.
In memory of T. J. CARTER, who departed this life May 6th, 1870.

He is gone from this world's dreary scenes
To his home in Heaven so bright.
Lament more than from five to eight minutes for each to deliver them. Criticism will be offered by the members of the association on each production. The exercises will be continued until the evening of the 29th, if necessary.

He has gone where he shall never be
With pain and anguish here;
There Angel bands attend him
On the banks of the beautiful river.

And when his dying moments came,
His mother and mother were near;
His brothers and sisters were there to speak his name,
And to his loved one here.

And shining Angels hovered o'er,
His bed to wait him home;
And Angels sweet sang—
Another home.

Adieu, dear brother, gone before;
To worship, round the throne;
O, may we all at death's dark door
Be ready to say, God's will be done.
